Sharing is sexy!

Ukrainian women are high on the list of desired partners when it comes to online dating. Why that is is because of the qualities these ladies possess. Let us assume that you have met a gorgeous woman from Ukraine and would like to visit to go on the first real date. This article offers you information about what you need to know when you intend to pay a visit to your Ukrainian girlfriend.

Tip no. – 1 Check if You Need a Visa

Back in the day, when Ukraine was a part of Russia, no matter where you were from – you needed a visa to get into the country. Nowadays some citizens from some countries are exempt from this requirement. If you happen to be from the United States, the United Kingdom or from any country in the European Union, you no longer need a visa.

A tip if you need a visa: always refer to the official consulate in your country when attempting to secure your visa. That is due to the fact that countries have different requirements for applying for a visa.

Tip no. 2 – Issue of Language Barriers

Ukrainians are learning English more and more these days to better communicate with the world but they are still in the early stages of English literacy.

When you travel there the best idea is to speak slowly and to use simple words. You can also use an electronic translator that has the language encoded. That can save you and the people you communicate with a lot of time when you can simply type in what you want to say instead of having others guess. As for your potential future partner – Skype every now and then to build the right communication style for the two of you.

Tip no. 3 – Hotels

We suggest you book a hotel online. A good idea is to ask your girlfriend for recommendations of the hotels nearest to her place for convenience. By the way it is best if you stay at a hotel and not at your girlfriend's place before you meet up for the first time. Otherwise that may but unnecessary strain on your relationship. Also you will most likely be in Ukraine for the first time, therefore the environment is unfamiliar to you and the hotel can provide you a way of getting used to the place.

Tip no. 4 – Transportation

Most people use public transport in Ukraine and the foreigners usually take taxis for convenience. If possible, ask your Russian date to arrange for someone to give you a lift from the airport. Another option is requesting a pick up from the hotel. That is since getting a taxi from the airport is expensive. Keep in mind that the more money you save is more money you have to spend on dates with your girlfriend. A useful tip: you can have someone from the hotel write down the addresses of where you think you will be going in Ukraine, to help you better communicate with the taxi driver. Also always have your hotel card on you so you can show the taxi driver where to go.
