What is AsianDate.Com?

Where would you go if you wanted to meet a woman from Asia, but have no idea where to start? Our answer to that is AsianDate.com. It is an online dating website that's an extension to the world-renowned AnastasiaDate.com. One of the website's aims is to facilitate a connection between a woman from Asia and a man from a different part of the world.

AsianDate Sign-Up Process

We rate this: 5 out of 5

It's very easy to sign up to the website and all you really need are basic information like your name, birthday, email and then your designated password. To make things even easier, you can just press the "Login Fast with Facebook" option without having to enter all of the details mentioned earlier.

Once you've signed up, you can then set your profile up – upload photos of yourself, enter specific details about yourself, etc. You'll also be able to set preferences for the women who you would like to meet – think of these as filters. You can set preferences in age, height, weight, location etc.

Here are the following features or services that the website has:

- Flowers & Presents – Allows you to send flowers and presents to your lady in Asia.

- Live Chat – For chatting with video.

It's comprehensive and it gives the clients good options for communication.

AsianDate Scam Policy, Security & Customer Service

We rate this: 4 out of 5

Another great thing that we like about this website is that the staff keeps a close eye on activities that do not adhere with their vision, mission and core values. For example, sending money is not allowed and someone caught doing this will be automatically banned from the website. We're glad to say that their policies, security and customer service are centered on the clients and not on false and unethical business practices.
