People who have not been lucky in their previous relationships have many options how to find love again. Many of them prefer to register on online dating sites or with a dating agency. International dating has become very popular in the recent years as more and more happy couples share their successful love stories. If you are not sure if dating foreigners is for you, read our guide below. This is a list of five reasons why we think everyone should try international dating, be it through a dating site or a dating agency.

1. Foreign women are loyal and trustworthy

Ukrainian and Russian ladies are notable for being the most dedicated of all other women. Once a woman from Eastern Europe has made a decision that the time is right for getting married and having children, there is almost nothing that could change her mind. Once that woman is sure of what she wants, she will do anything to defend her relationship and make her man happy. This is truly one of the greatest reasons to date a Ukrainian or Russian girl.

2. They are known for being kind and loving

If you have been looking for that right person to start a family with, a Russian or Ukrainian girl could be a perfect match for you. European women believe in traditional values and there is nothing that they want more than having a family and children. They're well known for being patient and loving moms. They're also prepared to put their family first and will do anything to protect their children. They really like being mothers and wives and will let nothing to stop them, not even their careers.

3. They are very beautiful

If you have been browsing profiles of single women on online dating sites or seen them in a dating agency, you probably have noticed that European women are very attractive. Even if they can't spend the cash to acquire the most expensive jewellery or clothing – they know how to make the best of what they do have. European ladies are very trendy and can often look like they just stepped off a runway. They take the way they look very seriously and take pride in their appearances. They're also very feminine and enjoy wearing lovely clothing rather than trousers and a simple shirt, like other girls normally dress.

4. They are very smart and intelligent

If you're into smart women, dating Russian or Ukrainian women may be perfect for you. Many of them speak multiple languages and they're interested in recent world events. They are curious about current news, world affairs and much more. Ukrainian ladies also like discussing serious matters and learning about different subjects. This is one of the top factors why an international romance may be a great adventure – you will not be bored!

5. European girls respect their partners

European girls are raised to respect their boyfriends. They feel that the boyfriend should be the head of the household and as such he should be respected. Of course, this does not mean that European women don't expect to be respected themselves.

If you think a couple has to respect one another and keep impressing one another after the first flames are gone, meeting women through international dating sites or a dating agency is the way to go.
