If you've been active on the international dating scene, you'll know there are many Ukrainian and Russian women dating men online. In fact, the Russian dating industry is expanding faster than ever as more and more men are trying to find companions overseas. The agencies have created a new service – Russian Romance Tours, an event for likely couples to get to know each other better. If you haven't been in the international dating world for too long though, you're probably thinking that this isn't doable. You could think that the people signing up for this kind of a deal would have to fly to Russia (thousands of kilometres away), take a tour, see the sights and then meet women as well. Doesn't it sound like a lot of trouble and also way more expensive than typical cyber dating? This certainly is true, but there are plenty of men from Europe and America ready to go a step further to find charming ladies through one of these tours.

What's Included in the Price and the Length of the Tours

The price of the tour usually covers all the expenses – airport transfers, flight tickets, your hotel and services of professional translators, etc. Meeting and dating Russian ladies is what you should focus on, as the dating agencies are working hard to make sure you have everything you may need. Depending on the company, the dating tours may last seven days or more. After all, the intent of the agency is to give you the best experience possible and leave you wanting for more.

Places Visited in a Single Tour

Russia is a land with unique history. Numerous interesting places and heritage sites make it the perfect place for a getaway. Moscow, St. Petersburg as well as Novgorod are among the cities where many Russian romance tours have been held. These regions are chosen because of their scenery, soiree destinations and, of course, the number of attractive Russian women dating the participants online.

Fees for the Dating Tours

Different companies offer different activities and services, so there is no standard price for the tours. The price can range from two to five thousand dollars. If you reserve your tour ahead of time, there are discount rates that may apply. Most clients of the dating agencies are from North America, however there are some non-American clients too. In cases like this, the client can buy a "land only" package that includes everything but the airfare. A lot of the tour packages also include special membership deals to the company's website or free credits for services. It's likely that if you find your match, the company will help with the documents and paperwork of the lady's visa.

How to choose the Best Russian Romance Tour option

Picking a romance tour package is no different from choosing your holiday package. Things to consider are:

- What experience am I expecting from this tour?
- Which tour has the best reviews?
- Which tour package is not too expensive for me?

Before making your final choice, think of why you're travelling to another country at all. This will help you make your choice. Be sure to know everything about what the tour includes – the type of your motel, planned activities, the food that's served, etc. Besides finding the love of your life, you want to have the best dating experience possible.
