Dating a Russian girl is the norm these days when it comes to international relationships. In fact, most guys who have ever dated a Russian woman agree that this is one of the best ways to spice up your love life. Even though online dating is growing in popularity by the day, there are some things to consider before you sign up. It's important to figure out what you hope to gain from this experience and the only way to do that is by taking the following questions into consideration.

1. What do I expect from the website?

Guys who are new to online dating tend to think that signing up guarantees them a hot date in a matter of days, but it's not quite like that in reality. Joining a website gives them a chance at dating Russian girls and how many women they attract is up to themselves. Dating websites simply connect singles all over the world and nothing is guaranteed. Those who think that they can somehow "buy" a partner will also be disappointed as the women are definitely not for sale.

2. What kind of woman do I hope to meet?

If you've done some research on online dating, you have probably heard the stereotypes about dating Russian girls. These myths have led some guys to believe that dating websites are a magical place where everything is possible. For example, lots of men believe that regardless of their own looks, age and personality, they can all date stunningly beautiful women. The submissiveness of Russian women is another myth which is not true in reality. Therefore, anyone who hopes to encounter women like this on Russian dating sites is bound to be disappointed. If you really want to get the most out of your dating experience, consider carefully if your expectations can be met in reality.

3. What are my best qualities?

You should take time to figure out which are your best qualities and characteristics and you should include this information in all the letters that you email. Your profile should also portray this as the more honest you are about yourself, the more attention you attract. Ladies love qualities like charm and intelligence so be sure to mention this whenever you can. Even though some guys think that Russian women will date just about any guy, it's not true as the women expect guys to be polite and charming to attract their attention.

These above mentioned topics are just a couple of the things that you need to think of before signing up with any site. Probably the most essential thing is to investigate thoroughly which sites are the most trustworthy and reliable ones. You shouldn't add your credit card data anywhere till you're sure the source is dependable.
